The NST is an off-axis Gregorian telescope with a 1.6 meter primary. A field stop at prime focus rejects most of the solar light allowing a field of view of 120 arc-seconds.